(November 2, 2009) – LOS ANGELES – Today, KIIS FM's announced the public on sale of the station's annual Holiday Concert event, "Jingle Ball," happening Saturday, December 5th at Nokia Theatre L.A. LIVE.

KIIS FM's Jingle Ball is presented by H&M and will feature live performances by: Taylor Swift, Keri Hilson, Fabolous, Ting Tings, 3OH!3, LMFAO, Jay Sean and Jason DeRulo. Host of television's top rated "American Idol," and KIIS FM's top rated morning radio show, Ryan Seacrest will appear live at the event along with the KIIS FM air personalities.

"Seeing a line up like this in a venue like Nokia Theatre L.A. LIVE is going to be a great concert experience for the KIIS listeners," states John Ivey, VP Programming for KIIS FM. "Taylor alone just sold out two LA area arena shows in basically a few minutes. So this is definitely a rare opportunity to not only see her live in an intimate setting, but also a great chance to see some of the best selling artists and rising stars who've had some of the biggest hits of the year."

On October 15th, Jingle Ball went on sale first to the station's VIP Rewards Club Members, and today tickets are on sale to the public at www.kiisfm.com.
