NEWSRADIO 1020 KDKA TO HOST THIRD MARCELLUS SHALE EXPO

Free Event Thursday at the Cranberry Regional Alliance to Explore Current Marcellus Shale Issues and Topics

PITTSBURGH – As Marcellus Shale continues to dominate the news in Western Pennsylvania, NewsRadio 1020 KDKA invites the public to attend its third Western Pennsylvania Marcellus Shale Expo on Thursday, October 11, 9:00 am-5:00 pm, at the Regional Learning Alliance in Cranberry, 850 Cranberry Woods Drive, Cranberry Township, PA 16066.

The event, presented by Range Resources, is free to the public.

Panel discussions will be hosted by NewsRadio 1020 KDKA talk hosts Robert Mangino and Mike Pintek and will explore the latest issues surrounding Marcellus Shale. At 10am Robert Mangino will host a session on Development and Manufacturing. Mike Pintek's topic at 4pm will be Environmental Innovation. Mike Pintek will also broadcast his talk show onsite from Noon-3pm.

Panelists for the morning session include Frank Brooks Robinson, Jr., of the Governor's Action Team; Petra Mitchell from Catalyst Connection and Rep. Jim Christiana from Beaver County. Afternoon session panelists include Alan Eichler of District Oil & Gas Operations; Rep. Marc Gergely from Allegheny County and John Ubinger from PA Environmental Council. Matt Pitzarella from Range Resources will serve on both panels.

Attendees will be able to meet and network with local business owners, entrepreneurs and industry leaders, and breakout sessions will be offered throughout the day. More information is available at KDKA.com/marcellus.
