Next Edition of World Cafe® Sense of Place Series Explores Music and Musicians of Pittsburgh

Special Steel City broadcast on Wednesday, December 11

PHILADELPHIA (NOVEMBER 27, 2013): For a special one-day edition of its Sense of Place series, the syndicated World Cafe radio program will explore the music of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, featuring exclusive interviews and music performances that will be broadcast on Wednesday, December 11.

World Cafe's Sense of Place series gives listeners an idea of the past and present of the local music scene and some pointers for musicians or music-lovers planning a visit. Previous editions of Sense of Place have explored such musical hotbeds as Nashville, Brazil and Argentina, New Orleans, Dublin, Toronto, Portland and others.

"I have always been a big fan of the city of bridges and tunnels so it was a joy to collaborate with WYEP on this quick visit to Pittsburgh. And the music! Listeners are going to love this show," said World Cafe host David Dye.

Highlights of Sense of Place: Pittsburgh on December 11 include:

- Live interview and performance session with the indie band Donora, recently recorded at Pittsburgh non-commercial radio station and World Cafe affiliate WYEP-FM in November
- WYEP Morning Mix host and local music advocate Cindy Howes talks about and plays music by her top five new Pittsburgh bands
- Interview with legendary Pittsburgh record store owner Jerry Weber of Jerry's Records

- Renowned soul singer and longtime Pittsburgh resident Billy Price selects his top five older songs from Pittsburgh, as seen through the lens of his 30-year career
- Archived World Cafe performance by Pittsburgh band Rusted Root
- Pittsburgh music selections chosen by World Cafe host David Dye

The Sense of Place series is made possible by the Wyncote Foundation. World Cafe, which airs from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday on its home station, WXPB 88.5 FM Philadelphia, is nationally syndicated to more than 225 radio stations by NPR.
